

PHARMACY SOFTWARE

Invoicing software built for how a pharmacy counter actually runs

A pharmacy can't afford to sell an expired medicine, and a queue can't afford a slow checkout. Invoice2Track tracks every batch's expiry date automatically and scans a barcode straight to the bill — the same speed and accuracy a busy counter actually needs.

How it works

- 1 Receive stock by batch
Every incoming purchase is recorded with its batch number and expiry date, tracked from the moment it enters the shop.
- 2 Scan at checkout
Scan a barcode and the item's added to the bill instantly at the right price — no searching a list while a customer waits at the counter.
- 3 Stock deducts automatically
The sale draws down the correct batch automatically, keeping counts accurate without a manual adjustment.
- 4 Watch for expiry
A standing report flags anything nearing its expiry date before it becomes an unsellable write-off, so it can be moved or returned in time.
- 5 Reorder before you run out
Low stock surfaces on one screen with the preferred vendor already suggested, so restocking doesn't mean digging through supplier lists.

Key capabilities

• Barcode-driven checkout Scan an item and it's added with the right price instantly — no searching a list while a customer waits at the counter.	• Batch & expiry tracking, by default Every medicine's batch and expiry date is tracked automatically, with a report flagging anything nearing its expiry before it becomes a write-off.
• Auto-suggested restocking Low stock surfaces on one screen with the preferred vendor already suggested — reorder without digging through supplier lists.	• GST-ready billing Turn on GST billing and every printed bill applies the correct tax treatment automatically.
• Full inventory control Every item counted and deducted automatically as it's billed — no manual stock register to reconcile at day's end.	• Vendor purchasing Track supplier purchase orders and history against every product, all in the same system as your sales.
